about the same as in previous years.

At 4 c'clock yesterday morning a fire was noticed on the first floor of No. 114, Queen's Road Central, occupied by the Hing Wah Firm (master Ho Ling Kee), and used as an English hardware shop. The flames ascended with great rapidity to the top floor, which is a native club house, and also fell to the ground floor, which was soon in blaze. It was thought at one time that the houses at the back would be gutted, but, thanks to the efforts of the members of the various briga es, all of which were in attendance, this was prevented. No. 114 was, however, completely gutted. All the floors and contents were insured. The conflagration originated on the back premises of the Ku-on club house in Gutzlaff Street, which building runs along behind Nos. 118, 116 and 114, Queen's Road.

NOW ON SALE. IMPERIAL QUARTO. PAGLISH AND CHINESE WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press Office. Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical services this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese charac-TIES, Vel. 17. SCOTLAND, IRELAND, ters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples COLONIAL DIRECTORY of Africa, Asia this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-It comprises upwards of two thousand large
